HONGKONG, TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1897.

THE importance of maintaining the coaling naval stations of the Empire in an efficient state is now more than ever question that appeals to the British public. Half the shipping of the world being dominated by the British flag and British industrial supremacy being generally acknowledged, it is necessary that these coaling stations be sent on Board with the same Late and naval bases which are to be found on able to retain their full share in the markets of the world, and the condition of the population of Greater Britain become more prosperous. The Salisbury Administration, recognising the importance of the improvement of the military defences of these stations, has arranged for the carrying out of very effective measures. At the meeting of the Legislative Council on Monday, the Colonial Secretary submitted a despatch from the Secretary of State respecting the Defence Works at Hongkong. In that document Mr Chamberlain states that since the construction of the defence works at Hongkong, it had been found necessary at all stations to provide a more efficient defence against torpedo craft, and it was now proposed to make the necessary change of armament. The estimated cost of such armament, including guns, mountings, &c., is £28,500; and the total estimated cost of the necessary works in connection with the new armament is £8,230; this amount being made up as follows:—Emplacements, &c., at Stone-cutters, £1,900; Emplacements at Belcher's Point, £4,000; Platforms, Magazines, &c., at Lyemun, £1,500; and Storage for six Machine Guns for general defence, £830. Following the precedent in regard to the cost of existing works and armament, Her Majesty's Government propose that the cost of the new armament shall be borne by the Imperial Government, and the cost of the works by the Colonial Government, which Mr Chamberlain trusts the Legislative Council will agree is a fair and reasonable arrangement. The possibility utilising the existing works as much as practicable will be carefully considered The P. & O. Co.'s s. s. Bombay left Bomand every endeavour will be made to keep down the cost of the works. Mr Chamberlain suggests that the expenditure might be spread over two years, about £4,000 being provided, before 31st March, 1898, and the remainder before the The R. L. s. s. Deille Rickmers, from corresponding period in the following year. Various new services of the nature of barracks or for the completion of existing defences will also have to be executed in the Colony, at an estimated cost of some £11,500; but as these were not included in the Barrack Scheme already entered into with the Colonial Government, it is not now proposed to make any claim upon the Colony in respect of these services. WE have once or twice hazarded the opinion that H. E. Governor Robins a has not always done himself justice in his work of administration. Now and again he might have shown more grit and a healthier grasp of affairs. In his speech at the Logislative Council yesterday on the attitude he has taken up concerning the new Sanitary By-laws, he has shown the community that he can do the right thing in the right way when he feels called upon to do so. It may be said that it is almost a pity he does not do so more frequently. But, meantime, we feel constrained to congratulate His Excellency upon the great good-sense he has displayed on this occasion. An expression of public opinion in our small Crown Colony may not, unfortunately, amount to very much; but the unanimous opinion on this action of the Governor is, that he has now done one of the most creditable all the great trade routes should be well things of his administration. The morning we left-Tuesday, the 20th April-a Chinese friend called on us at 9 a.m. (all business is finished for the day here by 10 a.m., so we were told) to wish us good-bye, and courteously sent off to us a large supply of partridges and pheasants' (close season apparently not recognized), pigeons, capons, potatoes, eggs, and a dozen stout-a welcome addition to our larder, though we replenished this every day with our guns. Speaking of pioneers, perhaps Mr Wenyon will forgive me for mentioning his name, but he deserves success, as I believe he speaks the different dialects, and travels round the North and West Rivers through the villages, pushing business in a manner that is bound to have its reward not only for himself but for all foreign traders. After sitting down for some time listening to tiger stories, we then descended the hill, and persuaded the villagers to make a platform about 18 feet from the ground in a large banyan tree at the foot of the ravine, which they were only too pleased to do. We told them we would return at 6 o'clock. went back towards the boat, and had some good snipe-shooting in the same old mulberry field. JAPANESE TELEGRAMS (From the 'Kobe Chronicle.') PRANCE AND THE NEW TREATY .--- A SERIOUS HITCH.

Tokyo, May 1.—The Special Committee appointed by the French Senate for the investigation of the new Treaty, recently signed between Japan and France, has been discussing a proposal to suspend the ratification of the Treaty, on the ground that in face of the agreement consenting to abolish Consular jurisdiction it is inequitable for Japan to deny French subjects the right of owning landed property. Now, however, that the new Treaty is already signed, it is believed here that it will be impossible for France to seek to resume negotiations on this point. Should the opposition in France to the Treaty be successful, and its ratification be suspended, the only course left to Japan will be to abandon the new Treaty, and it will become a diplomatic question whether the existing Treaty shall be maintained or France shall be declared a non-Treaty country. It is believed, however, that as the present Ministry in France has the support of a majority in the Chamber of Deputies, the new Treaty will eventually be approved even though it should be opposed by the

It would be most improbable that the existing Treaty would be maintained, as under the most-favoured-nation clause its continuance would render all the other new Treaties inoperative. GREEK VOLUNTEERS FROM BOMBAY. Bombay, April 26 .- Several Greek gentlemen connected with commercial houses in Bombay left for Athens on Saturday to join their Regiments and proceed to the seat of war. A suggestion was made that demonstration should be organised honour of their departure, but for well considered reasons, mainly, I believe, out of respect to the local Mussulman feeling, the idea was not carried into effect.

THE CHINA REVIEW.

PUBLISHED BI MONTHLY.

THIS Review, which was intended to meet 1 the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of 'Notes and Queries on China and Japan,' has reached its Twenty-second Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the 'Ear East' and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It mcludes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, He also proposed that the Correspondence Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new de- H. Smith. parture has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers.
